Winter Storm Wreaks Havoc, New Labor Committee Meets, Malloy Administration Announces Staff Departures on CT-N *Capitol Report: Week in Review

Hartford, CT – Starting at 7 p.m. this Friday, Connecticut Network viewers can see a chronicle of the October nor'easter's impact on Connecticut's government and people during the latest episode of Capitol Report: Week in Review. Both in the midst and in the aftermath of the rare autumn snowstorm that left nearly three-quarters of a million households without power, Governor Malloy briefed almost constantly from the State Armory, disseminating information on emergency responses and restoration efforts. At the same time, House Speaker Chris Donovan called for legislative action in the upcoming session that would require faster restoration responses from Connecticut utilities.

Capitol Report this week also includes highlights from the inaugural meeting of the Joint Labor Management Committee. A provision of the state employee unions' concessions package, this group is charged with exploring ways to make state government more efficient. This episode also includes excerpts from an announcement that three members of the governor's staff would be leaving their posts by year's end, and other events in state government this week.

Capitol Report: Week in Review summarizes the activity at the State Capitol during the week, using voice over and graphics to combine history, context, and next steps in the process with full-length excerpts from the week's proceedings. The program premieres on CT-N every Friday night at 7:00 p.m., then rebroadcasts at Noon and 7:00 p.m. on Saturdays, 8:00 p.m. on Sundays, and 6:00 a.m. Monday mornings; check CT-N's online program schedule for additional airtimes. Each episode runs between 30 and 60 minutes.

All episodes of Capitol Report are available online, in keeping with the network's seamless integration of telecast and interactive content.
