CGA Holds Veto Sessions & Governor Discusses Recent Hartford Violence on CT-N Capitol Report: Week in Review

Hartford, CT – This Friday at 7 p.m., Connecticut Network viewers will recap a week where the Connecticut General Assembly convened for Veto Sessions and Governor Dannel Malloy met with Hartford officials to discuss the city's alarming rise in gun violence on the latest episode of CT-N Capitol Report: Week in Review.

The week kicked off on Monday with both chambers of the Connecticut General Assembly convening Veto Sessions, which were required by the state constitution due to Governor Malloy's nine vetoes this year. In one chamber a motion to repass a bill was allowed, followed by a debate and vote. Meanwhile, the other chamber's Veto Session went much differently. This week's Capitol Report will review all the action that took place during each of the sessions, as well as the post-session comments made by the state's legislative leaders.

As the CGA was meeting for the last time this summer, Governor Malloy met with Hartford officials, including Mayor Pedro Segarra, to discuss the alarming amount of violence plaguing the capital city this year. The meeting came after the city's request for state assistance in combating the recent rise in homicides and gun violence. Later in the week Governor Malloy took another step in addressing violence by signing a bill that will enhance sexual assault investigations. Capitol Report will discuss the Governor's and Mayor's post-meeting comments, as well as a warning from Attorney General George Jepsen and Senate Majority Leader Bob Duff that Connecticut's new cybersecurity law could be pre-empted by federal legislation.

Capitol Report: Week in Review summarizes the activity at the State Capitol during the week, using voice over and graphics to combine history, context, and next steps in the process with full-length excerpts from the week's proceedings. The program premieres on CT-N every Friday night at 7:00 p.m., then rebroadcasts at Noon and 7:00 p.m. on Saturdays, 8:00 p.m. on Sundays, and 6:00 a.m. Monday mornings; check CT-N's online program schedule for additional airtimes. Each episode runs between 30 and 60 minutes.
