Governor Celebrates Transportation Investments & Visits with Hartford Leaders on CT-N Capitol Report: Week in Review

Hartford, CT – This Friday at 7 p.m., Connecticut Network viewers will recap a week that resulted in transportation investments, a new law targeting human trafficking and a meeting among Hartford community leaders to discuss the city’s issues with gun violence on the latest episode of CT-N Capitol Report: Week in Review.

Transportation continued to be the major theme of Governor Dannel Malloy’s year as he celebrated the State Bond Commission’s approval for major investments in the state’s infrastructure during a special meeting held on Tuesday. The following day, the Governor’s Transportation Finance Panel met in order to continue its work in finding ways to pay for his $100 billion infrastructure vision over the next 30 years. The panel, which was meeting for the fourth time since its creation earlier this year, focused their discussion on tolls and mileage based user fees.

Outside of the transportation realm, the Governor held another bill signing ceremony on Wednesday that drew attention to a new law targeting human trafficking in the state. He continued his busy week by addressing Hartford’s alarming rise in gun violence this summer at a North End community event. There, he and local leaders discussed the recent incidents of violence and the new Second Chance Society reforms that he signed into law earlier this month.

This week’s Capitol Report will also review the comments made by Democratic leaders about the impact of the state budget on property tax payers, as well as hearings held by the state’s Insurance Department that focused on three health insurer’s rate hike requests.

Capitol Report: Week in Review summarizes the activity at the State Capitol during the week, using voice over and graphics to combine history, context, and next steps in the process with full-length excerpts from the week’s proceedings. The program premieres on CT-N every Friday night at 7:00 p.m., then rebroadcasts at Noon and 7:00 p.m. on Saturdays, 8:00 p.m. on Sundays, and 6:00 a.m. Monday mornings; check CT-N’s online program schedule for additional airtimes. Each episode runs between 30 and 60 minutes.
