Hartford, CT – This Friday at 7 p.m., Connecticut Network viewers will recap a week Governor Dannel Malloy announced the latest proposals for his Second Chance Society initiative and nominated his new DMV and Labor Commissioners on this week's episode of CT-N Capitol Report: Week in Review.

Following the resignation of DMV Commissioner Andres Ayala last week Governor Malloy announced that Dennis Murphy, the Department of Labor's Commissioner, would take his place on an interim basis. With a hole left at the Department of Labor, the Governor tapped former Hamden Mayor and Sandy Hook Advisory Commission Chair Scott Jackson as the new Commissioner of Labor. Later in the week, the Governor held a briefing where he announced his Second Chance Society 2.0 initiative. He specifically detailed his sweeping juvenile justice and bail bond system reforms, which he will ask the legislature to act on during the upcoming session.

In other news at the Capitol, several legislative working groups held their final meetings to discuss possible proposals to be considered during the 2016 Legislative Session.
