CGA Puts in Long Nights as Session Winds Down on *CT-N Capitol Report: Week in Review

Hartford, CT – This Friday at 7 p.m., Connecticut Network viewers will recap the last full week of the 2016 Legislative Session - where the CGA held debate on bills related to domestic violence, opioid addiction, firefighter cancer relief and retirement savings on the latest episode of CT-N Capitol Report: Week in Review.

As is custom with just days to go, legislators in the House of Representatives and State Senate debated and voted on a variety of bills during sessions that lasted well into the night. Most notable of the proposals debated included protecting domestic violence victims from possible gun violence, preventing opioid addiction & deaths, banning employers from asking about applicants' criminal history and the creation of a retirement savings plan for private sector employees.

Capitol Report will also review the final legislative consideration of a negotiated bill that would create a firefighter cancer relief fund, as well as the many developments from the past week related to budget negotiations between Governor Dannel Malloy and Democratic & Republican leaders.

Capitol Report: Week in Review summarizes the activity at the State Capitol during the week, using voice over and graphics to combine history, context, and next steps in the process with full-length excerpts from the week's proceedings. The program premieres on CT-N every Friday night at 7:00 p.m., then rebroadcasts at Noon and 7:00 p.m. on Saturdays, 8:00 p.m. on Sundays, and 6:00 a.m. Monday mornings; check CT-N's online program schedule for additional airtimes.
