UConn Revokes Cosby's Degree, Bill Signed to Modernize Signage & State Park Concerns on *CT-N Capitol Report: Week in Review

Hartford, CT – This Friday at 7 p.m., Connecticut Network viewers will recap a week where the state's flagship university revoked an honorary degree for the first time, a special meeting was held to discuss the budget's impact on state parks, and a well-known parking sign received a modernized update on the latest episode of CT-N Capitol Report: Week in Review.

The UConn Board of Trustees met this week and voted to revoke an honorary degree that was awarded to comedian and actor Bill Cosby in 1996 – the first time the university has ever taken such an action. The move comes after a plethora of sexual assault accusations made by women against Cosby, as well sworn testimony made by the former commencement speaker that he drugged unsuspecting women.

Back at the Capitol, the Legislative Sportsmen's Caucus called a special meeting to discuss concerns about budget cuts at the Department of Energy and Environmental Protection (DEEP) which will affect state parks, campgrounds and beaches this summer. Capitol Report will also review a bill signing ceremony held by Governor Dannel Malloy for legislation that modernizes the symbol of access for persons with disabilities and a new state law taking effect which will limit opioid prescriptions to seven-day supplies.

Capitol Report: Week in Review summarizes the activity at the State Capitol during the week, using voice over and graphics to combine history, context, and next steps in the process with full-length excerpts from the week's proceedings. The program premieres on CT-N every Friday night at 7:00 p.m., then rebroadcasts at Noon and 7:00 p.m. on Saturdays, 8:00 p.m. on Sundays, and 6:00 a.m. Monday mornings; check CT-N's online program schedule for additional airtimes. Each episode runs between 30 and 60 minutes.
