Governor Makes Supreme Court Nomination and General Assembly Votes on Pension Agreement and Juan F. Settlement on *CT-N Capitol Report: Week in Review

Hartford, CT – This Friday at 7 p.m., Connecticut Network viewers will recap a week where Governor Malloy announced a nomination to the state's highest court and the General Assembly voted on two separate agreements concerning state pension funding and the DCF Juan F. settlement on the latest episode of CT-N Capitol Report: Week in Review.

Both the House of Representatives and State Senate met in session on Wednesday and considered approval of the state pension funding deal reached by the Governor's administration and state employee union negotiators. The chambers also took action on the revised Juan F. settlement agreement which was designed to end federal court oversight of the state's Department of Children and Families (DCF).

Later in the week, Governor Malloy announced that he was nominating Gregory D'Auria of Hebron to fill the vacancy on the Connecticut Supreme Court left by retired Associate Justice Peter Zarella. Capitol Report will also review the Transportation Committee's public hearing, which included testimony regarding seat belts on school buses and whether the state should study the feasibility of a mileage tax, and the Labor and Public Employees Committee's public hearing on proposed bills regarding pay equity for women and state employee medical benefits.

Capitol Report: Week in Review summarizes the activity at the State Capitol during the week, using voice over and graphics to combine history, context, and next steps in the process with full-length excerpts from the week's proceedings.
